Mr. Bose,

I enjoyed our conversation as well. Thanks for the information. I appreciate it and if I have any more questions I won't hesitate to ask. Also, I have attached a PDF file version of my ethical analysis. You have my permission to use it however you would like. If you would like a word file of the document I can send that as well just let me know.

Hello Mr. Bose,

I wanted to give you my email address for the future. You have mentioned your hopes of visiting Malta and I figured when the time comes, I could help with your trip. Since I've been going myself every summer I'd like to think I know the ins and outs. You can contact me about this on my email address at any point, _____.

I know these trips take some time to plan, but I highly suggest the tour.

Hope you get the chance;

I did, _____. But I would encourage you to seek outside help as well.

For paginated articles, you need to cite the numbers in-text. That might require seeing the file and counting the page numbers in there where you got the citation. For the next paper, show me the articles (we can call them up on the computer, if needed, in the office) and I can help.

Another option may be to remove the page numbers in the works cited page; if that is the case, see BH on how to do so.

Let me know if I can clarify the issue further.

Hello again! I was wondering about the page numbers in my citations. In Essay 3, you had put "page #'s?" next to one of them. When I was looking in my BH it said that if the source did not have page numbers to not put any (on pg. 520). The only page numbers my sources had were when I printed them, and the book said that since those page numbers could be different for other computers to not use them. Should I have used a different method instead? Thanks for your time.

it's okay, I understand and I am glad you are feeling better.

Thanks for the recommendations for essay # 4, I will work on it today and, go see you if I need help.

_____, thanks for sending this over. I'm just getting over an illness now and have some time to respond; normally the wait isn't so long!

You did a good job describing the arguments about euthanasia in Essay 3. For the next essay, I would suggest furthering research on doctor/patient ethics issues, such as confidentiality and explanation of treatment. Try using search terms like this in the library database, or ask a librarian for help. I will be in UT 137A tomorrow between 10:30 and 12PM if you need to stop by.

Congratulations! You'll have to let me know how all that turns out. I have heard that the Honors Program expectations are challenging, but I'm sure that it won't be a problem for you. 😊 Please do keep in touch after the semester's over. I'm teaching a section of ENGL 102 on M or T nights at the NW campus.

Have a happy holiday as well.

Cheers,

Thanks, _____. Your paper looks good, and as we discussed in class, an interesting development for the essay would be to discuss the counter-argument of online instruction in more depth.

Here's an article that may point you towards the right direction:

<http://www.westga.edu/~distance/ojdla/fall53/olt53.html>

Try locating two more articles that will extend your point. Look for "distance education ethics" or similar terms in the library database.

Best,

You have been recorded as absent. Review class policy regarding missing more than 10% of class meetings.

_____,

I understand you got sick and had to miss some classes earlier (November 3), but that by itself does not qualify you for either an incomplete or a late withdrawal. At this point, you will get the grade you earn (unless there is some information I am unaware of regarding what has happened to you).

Take care,
Dr. Bose

I went to the Student Records Office, and they told me that I'm unable to withdraw. They said to go talk to the head of the English department to try to work out an incomplete. He told me that he couldn't and I'd need to talk to you about it. I'm not really sure what I need to do, but my Life Scholarship is riding on this class.

I've been having problems with my webmail, so I only saw this and the last email from you yesterday.

Thank you for the update, and I hope all is better now. The deadline to withdraw was 26 Oct. You will need to go through the Office of Student Records to ask how to do this.

Let me know how it turns out. I'm teaching the class again next semester at the NW campus on Monday nights.

Dr. Bose,

There was a caps I missed. It is now corrected. Thank you for the opportunity of letting us revise said essay. You are a fantastic instructor. It is a shame that you are not teaching Eng 102 next semester.
